

Moving Dialogs: Women in the Director's Chair

Powered by

Moving Dialogs: Women in the Director's Chair

Wednesday, November 2

Conversation: 6-7:30pm

Chicago Cultural Center

78 E Washington St

1st Floor Garland Room

Chicago, IL 60602

FREE: $5.00 Suggested Donation

RSVP HERE

Artists:

Nejla Yarkin: Choreographer, Dancer, and Artistic Director of NY2Dance

JoAnna Mendl Shaw: Choreographer, Dance Educator, and Artistic Director of The Equus Projects

Keesha Beckford: Choreographer, Dancer, Educator, and Youth Program Manager at Hubbard Street

Yanira Castro: Artist, Choreographer, and Founder of the interdisciplinary collaborative a Canary Torsi

Moderator:

Sandra Kaufmann: Choreographer, Dancer, Educator, and Founding Director of the dance program at Loyola University Chicago

About the Series: Moving Dialogs: "Women in the Director's Chair" explores the lack of representation of females in positions of leadership and change agency in the United States. Moving Dialogs will address and investigate this phenomenon with a forward thinking, three part discussion series that focuses on women who are reshaping the way we perceive female dance artists, choreographers, and directors.

Moving Dialogs: Women in the Director's Chair is funded in part by the Chicago Seminar on Dance and Performance.